Inching Towards Start Up

We are still working on the electrical system of the Spitfire 4 MK2. The Harness is for a Spitfire MK4. This matches the "J" transmission with overdrive that came out of a Spitfire MK4. It is strung out throughout the body and some of the gauges are hooked up. The "new" light bulbs on the gauges are having to be replaced to match the wiring harness. The Bosch alternator hooked up snugly to the wiring harness.
